

The High-Performance Physician

*Office visits generate ancillary tests and procedures revenues. Therefore, the value of each office visit is the total annual revenue generated by a physician divided by the number of office visits per year.